

PRESS RELEASE

CableNet courses now available in Benelux region

CableNet Training has announced an international partnering agreement with Netherlands-based Belko Connection Technology bv to deliver their entire portfolio of training programmes throughout the Benelux region.

The agreement, signed on 30th July 2004, means that all CableNet's courses, currently numbering forty two, will now be available to the network cabling community in Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Belko BV will also act as a host for BICSI training for CableNet.

Belko is a highly regarded and well established distributor of network cabling products in Europe. The company were keen to add CableNet's programmes to its product offerings, realising that such training is badly needed, but not available on mainland Europe. Belko chose to partner with CableNet after researching the market, as the Suffolk-based company is the only independent training provider able to fulfil their remit of offering a wide range of industry-focused training, with qualifications that are recognised throughout Europe.
